91 ORDERS FULFILLED

37 came through Uber Eats and 54 through Deliveroo. Build your prep volumes around this — the trend is upward.

DELUXE BUNDLE (FOR 1) LEADING SALES

Deluxe Bundle (for 1) and Snuggle Bundle (for 2) are pulling basket size up. Uber average order was £24.93. Keep top item components prepped and consistent.

ADS RETURNED 6.59× ROAS

Uber ad spend of £125.13 drove 33 attributed orders. Deliveroo ads spent £273.02. When ads are on, the kitchen needs to be ready for demand.

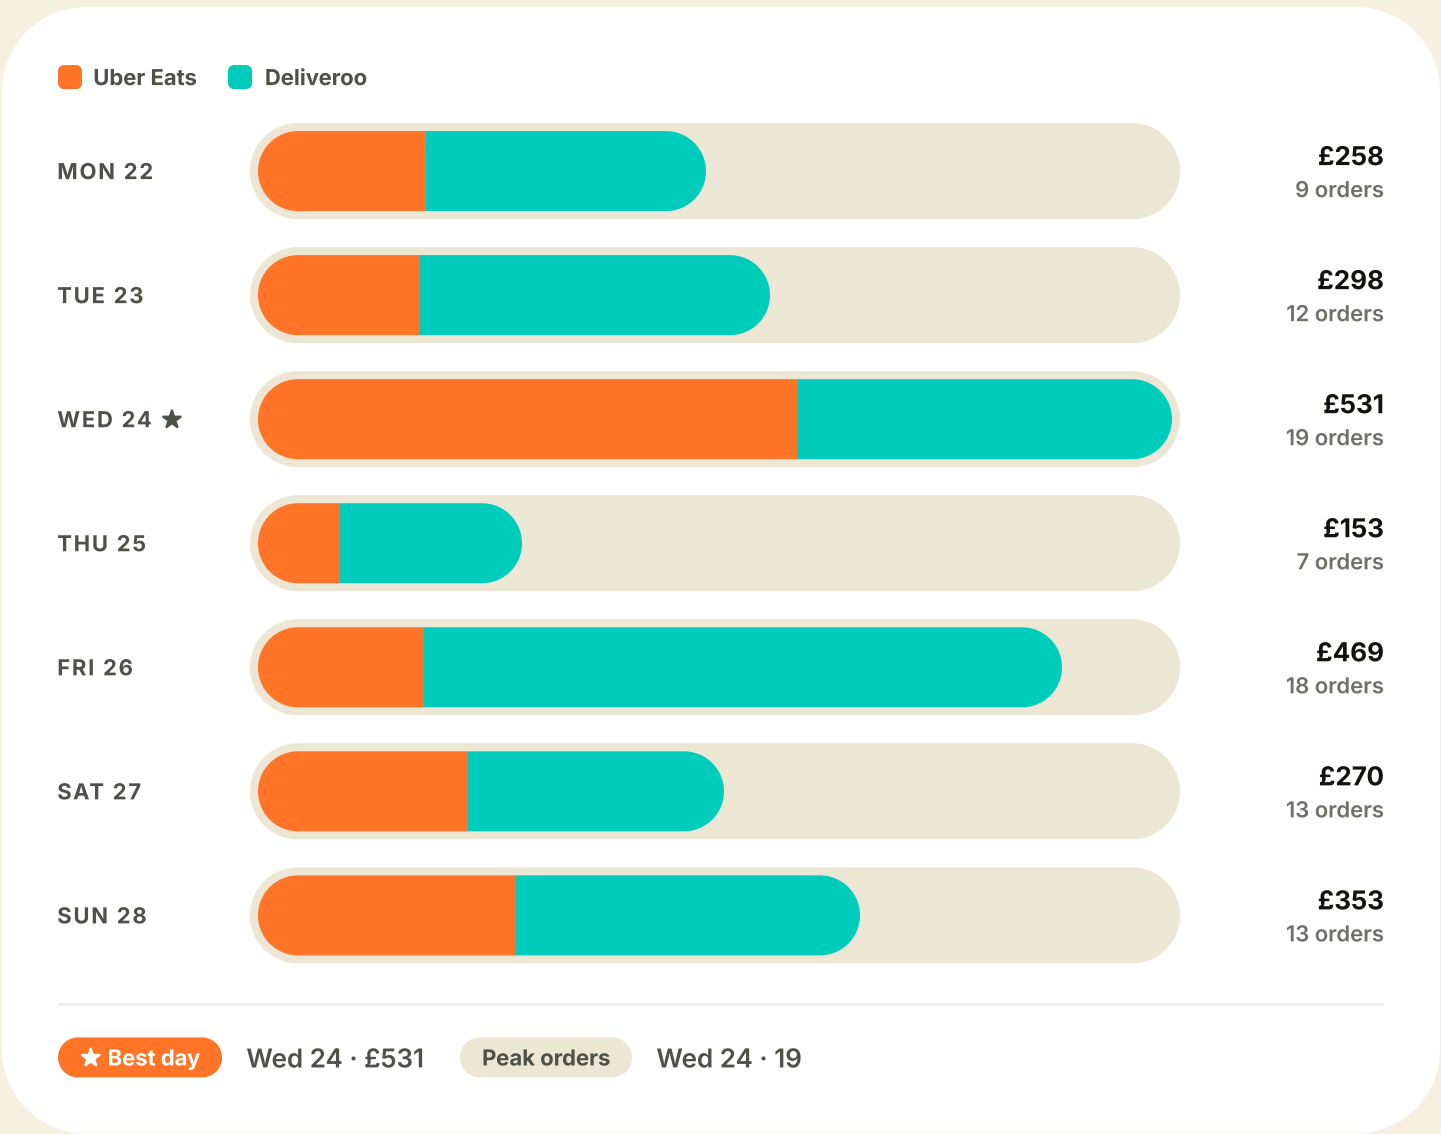

ITEM QUALITY FLAGGED

Uber order CB5D8: 1-star review tagged not tasty, not worth price and poor packaging; customer said the chicken was not cooked properly. These are the priority fixes for next week.

02 — DAILY RHYTHM

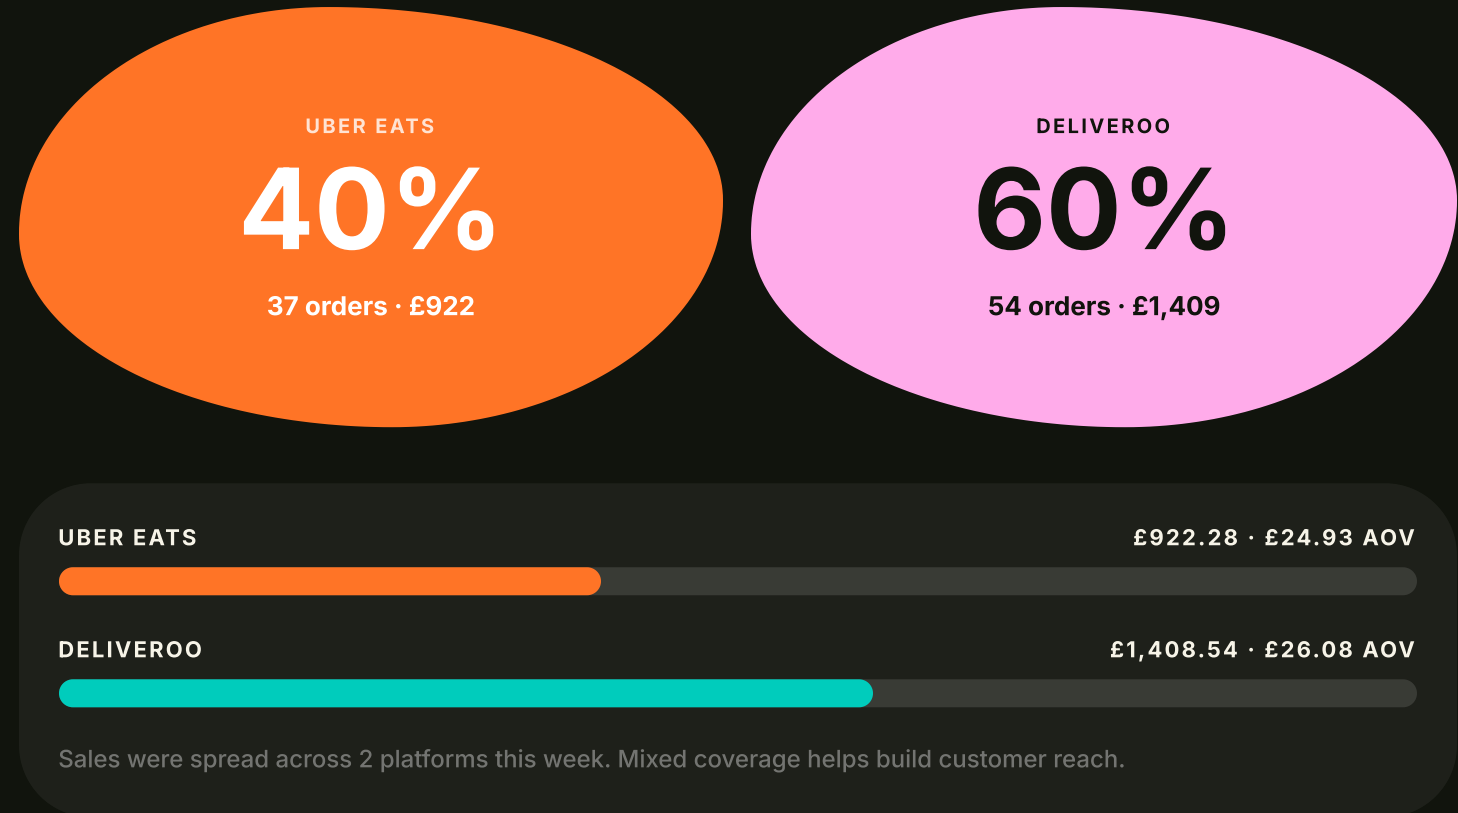

Where the week had its shape.

Both platforms per day. The best combined day was Wed 24 at £531.

Where the orders came from.

Deliveroo drove the largest share of sales this week, with Uber Eats adding strong ad-led visibility and 37 orders. Two platforms were active in the supplied data.

04 — ITEM WINNERS

What customers actually bought.

Keep these prepped and consistent. They are driving revenue and orders across platforms.

What the kitchen takes into next week.

01 COOKED CHICKEN STANDARD: PROBE BEFORE PACKING

Probe the thickest piece of chicken before it leaves the kitchen: core temperature must read 75°C or above. If it is below 75°C, keep cooking and do not pack the order.

02 PACKING STANDARD: FINAL BAG CHECK ON EVERY UBER ORDER

Before sealing the bag, read the receipt out loud and tick off every main, side, dip, drink and modifier. Two Uber claims were missing-item issues, so no bag leaves without this check.

03 PEAK PREP STANDARD: BUILD FOR WEDNESDAY AND FRIDAY

Wednesday hit £531 and Friday hit £469 with 18 orders. Pre-prep extra wings, loaded fries components, bundles and sandwich fillets before the dinner rush so speed does not drop when demand spikes.
